

Saved by an Angel

I saw the light,
It was shining so brightly,
She told me not to move,
And she waved at me so gently.

I told her I couldn't wait any longer,
And she told me to not give up,
Because someone will come and save me.

I told her I was so scared,
But she told me she was going to be there,
I asked her about my parents,
And her expression saddend.

I asked her how they will find me,
She told me that they will see the light,
I asked her why she was there with me,
She told me it was her duty to protect me.

I asked her why did this happen to us,
She told me it was meant to be.
I asked her if other kids were in the same situation like me, And she told me that every kid has an angel to protect them like me.

I was getting sleepy,
And she closed my eyes.
She told that when I woke up ,
Somebody would find me.

I opened my eyes,
I was in someone's arms.
He asked me If I was alright,
And I told him everything was right.

He asked if I was scared,
And I told him that I was protected,
He asked me "by who?"
And I told him "by an angel".

ALIAS: FZD

"This poem is dedicated to the children who disappeared, lost their lives and their families in the Turkish earthquake."